Ex Parte Quayle

1. This application is in condition for allowance except for the following formal matters:

a. IN THE ABSTRACT

Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it exceeds 150 words in length and it should be amended to reflect the invention as being claimed. Correction is required.

b. IN THE CLAIMS

2. This application is in condition for allowance except for the presence of claims 32 to 41 non-elected without traverse. A complete reply to this office action must include a cancellation of claims 32-41.

Prosecution on the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

A shortened statutory period for reply to this action is set to expire TWO MONTHS from the mailing date of this letter.

Reasons for Allowance

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Claims 23-31 and 42-44 have been found to be allowable since while the prior art of record teaches an exposure apparatus where a reflected light sensor is provided to detect light reflected from a photosensitive substrate and returning through a projection optical system and a reticle, and the intensity of light which has passed the reticle is detected on the substrate side of the projection optical system so that the amount of variation in imaging characteristic of the system is determined. But the prior art of record, either alone or in combination, neither discloses nor makes obvious the combination of projection exposure apparatus and a corresponding method, having a first detector disposed in a vision field of the projection optical system outside an image projection region where an image of the pattern of the reticle is projected, along with a second detector, a variation detector and an exposure controller, with particular functions and connections of these elements, for providing the substrate with a desired exposure amount, as recited in the instant claims.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Prior Art Made of Record

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Art Unit: 2851

Kurosawa et al (U.S.Pat. 5,914,9773) discloses an exposure apparatus wherein the intensity of light pulse and the time moment of emission of light pulse are controlled during continuous emission of pulse light source.
